C-2 EXPLODES; SEVEN PERSONS INJURED

U. S. Largest Dirigible Destroyed At San Antonio, Tex.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 17.—The dirigible C-2, the United States army's best and largest "blimp" on a return trans-continental flight from Ross Field, Cal., to Langley Field, Va., was burned today and seven persons were injured, according to Major H. A. Strauss, commander of the ill-fated ship. The accident was due primarily to the pulling out of the fabric of the envelope during a strong wind.

A board of inquiry was appointed by Major Royce, commander of Brooks Field, to investigate the accident. The ship, which Major Strauss said was valued at possibly $70,000, originally cost the government $270,000. The seven men, five army officers and two newspaper men injured, tonight were reported not seriously hurt.

Preparing for Flight

The C-2 was preparing to make a flight over San Antonio for the benefit of four newspaper reporters and eight army officers of headquarters Eighth corps area at Fort Sam Houston. It had just been pulled out of the hangar about half way, when a gust of wind, estimated by Major Strauss at not more than fifteen miles velocity, swung the ship around.

"A strong puff came, dragging the bag along the ground," said Major Strauss' written statement regarding the accident. "I ordered the ship back into the hangar. Just as we started another gust came and the fabric, to which the windward handling guy was attached, pulled loose, another handling guy broke under the sudden pressure and the third handling guy failed, releasing the bag and permitting it to swing to leeward into the concrete structure at the base of the hangar door. The bag was torn.

"As the bag became loose, the car broke in two pieces. Thirty seconds after the car broke, the hydrogen in the envelope caught fire due to the hole and rapid influx of air. When this occurred all personnel on board was clear of the ship and injuries suffered were caused by dropping or falling from the car prior to or just after it had lodged on the concrete structure of the hangar door.

"The ship had been in perfect condition during the continental flight, and the cross wind was not of such velocity as would cause any trouble in handling.

"This accident, which has resulted so disastrously for the C-2 itself, is due primarily to the pulling out of the fabric of the envelope. If this had not occurred the ship undoubtedly would have been safely maneuvered back into the hangar."

TAYLOR—LEACH

Miss Bettye Martine Taylor, of Cromwell, and Mr. Clay Leach, of Beaver Dam, were married Saturday night, October 14, the Rev. Sherman Riggs, performing the ceremony, that made the two young hearts beat as one.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Taylor, and is a very popular young lady. She attended High School at Hartford in 1920-21, and has many friends here. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Leach, and is a successful young farmer.

They have the best wishes of their many friends, for a long and prosperous life together.

DANIEL P. EMBERTON DIES

Daniel P. Emberton, aged 79 years 5 months and 26 days, died at his home in the Buda community, Saturday afternoon, of a disease of the heart.

Mr. Emberton was twice married, the first marriage being to Miss Julia Ann Denham, which took place January 29, 1865, who preceded him to the grave 22 years ago. To this union were born six children, of whom two sons and two daughters survive. They are Mr. J. T. Emberton, of Owensboro, Mr. John B. Emberton, of Buda, Mrs. P. H. Canary, of Cloverport, and Mrs. Malinda Canary, of Buda. In addition to those he is survived by his second wife and three sisters, Mrs. Kate Knight, of Owensboro, Mrs. Amanda Hewlett and Mrs. Mat Williams, of Evansville, Ind.

He was a member of the Shinkle Chapel Methodist church, and a good citizen.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, by Rev. T. T. Frazier, of Hartford, at Mt. Herman, and the remains deposited in the church cemetery.

HARTFORD HIGH WINS GAME FROM LIVERMORE

The local School team and Livermore staged a pretty game at the local park Friday afternoon of last week. Livermore has a good baseball team and a nice bunch of boys, but Hartford's got the best pitching and a shade in fielding, resulting in the score of 5 to 3 in favor of Hartford. "Little" Baize went the route for the locals and got in bad only in one frame, when the visitors filled the bags, and as we remember, made all of their tallies after two had died by the strike-out route, the next batter landing for a good, long smack which ordinarily would have been caught, but the fielders happened to be playing in the wrong position. Shults started receiving for the locals but was forced to retire during the game, on account of an injured hand, in favor of Ashby. Friday's contest was the second captured from Livermore.

White, who has been holding the first bag for the locals was not in the game. Crowe, the regular short-field performer, went to first and Likens, who had not been playing with the team, went to short.

MRS. CHARLOTTE TAYLOR

Mrs. Charlotte Taylor, aged 87 years, 4 and one half months, died at the home of Miss Mamie Bennett, in Hartford, Tuesday morning, Oct. 17, of heart trouble together with other complications due to her advanced age. Mrs. Taylor was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius P. Stetler, one of Ohio County's most prominent and pioneer families. She was born near Bethel and spent her entire life in Ohio County. Her husband, John A. Taylor, with whom she was married in early life, preceded her in death some 25 years. She was a devoted member of the Methodist church, of a hospitable and kindly disposition and as fine a type of christian womanhood of real worth as could be found within the community.

The deceased lady had made her home during the past several years with her niece, Miss Bennett, where she passed away. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. T. Frazier from the home Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. Interment took place in Oakwood Cemetery.

There is surviving one brother, V. P. Stetler, of Livermore and a number of nieces and nephews.

HENRY M. ASHBY

YIELDS TO MALADY

Mr. Henry M. Ashby, aged 64 years, 1 month and 26 days, died at his home near Sunnydale, at 8:00 p. m., Friday, October 13, of dropsy, from which he had been suffering for some time. He had been in ill health for six years, and had been confined to his bed, the greatest portion of the past three years.

Mr. Ashby was a member of the Christian Church, and a well respected citizen. He is survived by his wife and two sons.

After funeral services, the remains were laid to rest in the burying grounds, at Bethel, Saturday.

CLEAR RUN

Mrs. Florence Park, who has been visiting relatives in Ohio for four weeks, returned home last Friday.

Wilburn Hoover is building a new house on the land recently purchased of his father.

Mrs. Fanny Murray is at the bedside of her brother, Robert Crowe, in Owensboro, who is very ill of typhoid.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Havenor, of Hefflin, attended church at Union Grove Sunday.

DUNDEE IS TO SECURE BANKING INSTITUTION

Citizens of Dundee and surrounding country have perfected plans for the organization of a bank at that place. The capital stock of the institution is $15,000, of which all will be paid in prior to the date of commencing business which has been tentatively fixed for December 1st.

Garfield Brown, who was reared near Magan, this County, but who has been engaged in the banking business in the South during the past several years has been elected Cashier and Porter McDowell, President. The Board of directors, as designated, is to be composed of Dr. J. A. Duff, C. C. King, J. A. Edge, J. E. Mitchell, Martin Nabors, Porter McDowell and Garfield Brown. Articles of incorporation of the new bank, which will be known by the corporate name of "Rough River Bank" have been recorded in the County Clerk's Office and a copy transmitted to the Secretary of State.

MRS. MAGGIE RHOADS IS VICTIM OF TYPHOID

Mrs. Maggie Rhoads, wife of Mr. Sam Rhoads, died at their home at Buford Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock after three weeks illness of typhoid. She was 46 years, 7 months and 18 days of age, and a daughter of the late Sam Richeson, and Mrs. Richeson.

She was a member of the Mt. Carmel Baptist church at Buford, and a devoted christian, wife and mother. Among surviving relatives are her husband, eight children, four sons, and four daughters, two grandchildren, her mother, four brothers and three sisters.

Funeral services were held at Mt. Carmel Monday afternoon at one o'clock, with the Rev. Williams, pastor of the Eaton Memorial Baptist Church, Owensboro, officiating. Her remains were then laid to rest in the church cemetery.

HONORING MISS COOK

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was an informal card party given Friday evening October 13th, by Mrs. John Pendleton Taylor, in honor of her sister, Miss Margaret Estha Cook of Vicksburg, Miss. Several games of 500 were played at the conclusion of which hand made handkerchiefs were presented to Miss Leila Glenn and Mr. Edward Duke, makers of the highest scores.

The guests were then invited to assemble in the dining room which was decorated with a profusion of flowers, the color scheme, gold and rose, predominating. The table in the center of the room was a vision of beauty, tall rose colored candles in filigreed silver shades cast a soft gleam over the gold and rose chrysanthemums that lay upon the white cloth, and the tiny rose-colored baskets with saucy butterfly handles. The place cards were most appropriate, each bearing an original rhyme combined with the owners name that produced peals of laughter when read aloud. Covers were laid for 15 and the delectable luncheon was served to the following guests: Misses Margaret Estha Cook, Vicksburg, Miss., Leila Glenn, Mildred Stevenson and Anna Rhea Carson, city; Messrs. Paxton Casebeer, Beaver Dam, James Glenn, Elijah Thomas, Parke Taylor, Edward Duke, and J. Glenn Barnes. Mrs. A. D. Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barnhill, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Taylor, city.

RALPH—KENDALL

Miss Connye Ralph, of Beaver Dam, and Mr. Pete Kendall, of Marion, Ill., motored to Owensboro last Saturday, where they were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Ralph, and a very popular young lady. The groom is an industrious and popular young man.

They have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy married life.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Be sure and make your plans to attend the Halloween party at the High School Auditorium, given by the Home Economics Class, Tuesday evening, Oct. 31, 7:00 to 10:30.

BEADS ODPLY STRUNG

(By I. D. Claire)

Once in a long while column conductors, like Fluke, Maleom Bailey and yours very respectfully, will drift on to a real clever paragraph. Fluke struck a harmony cord in that Doc Riley story last week. But most of the credit is due Doc, for, after all, it was his invention. You see, I know the inside workings of the column conductors, and the better you know how things are done the less reverence you have for them.

In making my will I'm going to cut that boy of mine off with just a few thousand dollars. The little rascal has talked so much baseball about the house that I actually found myself reading reports of the world series. It's a case of a boy corrupting his parent, and he ought to be punished.

Buddy McPheag thinks of a heap of things that escape the most of us. We were talking about the weather the other day when I thought I was pulling something smart by remarking that Noah was the greatest weather prophet in all history; referring to the fact that he predicted the flood forty years in advance. "Noah had a hunch at weather predictions," Buddy commented, "but he made a good many blunders when he was loading up the Ark." And when I asked why, he continued, "Just look how stupid he was to let in the snakes and bedbugs and all them sort of things. Of course he ain't to blame for the sharks and the seaserpents, because they could swim, but he could have had Missus Noah stand around with a bush and a kept the flies and mosquitos from getting in through the windows."

A group of us on the Watterson Mezzanine the other night fell to discussing the great surprises of history, when the wit of the group remarked that he had always thought Father Adam had the most remarkable surprise of all time. "Just think," said he, "what must have been the old man's surprise when he saw the first sunset. Experience had not yet taught him the movements of the planets, and he must have watched old Sol go down with sore misgivings that he would never appear again," upon the delivery of which one of the party suggested that we repair to the nearest soft drink stand.

I come in daily contact with prohibition enforcement officers, and I hear them recount some remarkable experiences. One of the most amusing of these was told me yesterday. The officer said they—these fellows like wolves hunt in packs—had arrested a hill man and destroyed his outfit, when he said to them, "Boys, I haven't any grievance against you fellows, in fact you are my friends. If you boys were to quit raiding moonshine would go down to fifty cents a gallon, and there would not be any money in the business for me or anybody else." Now that sounds funny, but it is, after all, sound sense.

A rich Easterner is going to endow a medical college, before the students of which, every type of practitioner may lay his pet theory for healing the sick. The allopath, the homeopath, the osteopath, the chiropractic, the eclectic, the eccentric, the root and herbs man and the faith-healer, together with the spell-worker and the magician, may alternate in lecturing to the bewildered students. And then may the Lord have mercy on the luckless patients of this product of the doctor factory.

The rest of mankind do not justly appreciate the tremendous debt they owe to the Russian people. Just when a war-weary world was drifting toward anarchy, the Russians obligingly tried out the disastrous experiment, and are paying an awful penalty for the object lesson they are furnishing to the human race.

Perhaps no greater single misfortune can befall a nation of people than periodic occurrences of lavish prosperity. It forms habits and creates tastes that can not be long maintained, and the reaction brings painful and wretched disappointment. The silk stocking will go, but only after woman has reached the limit of endurance in robbing her stomach to adorn her legs.

WALKER L. PARK

Mr. Walker L. Park, a well known citizen of Ohio county, who has been afflicted with palsy for the past three years and in care of the Western State Hospital, Hopkinsville, Ky., died at that institution Wednesday, October 11th. His remains were brought home for burial and interred in the Taylor Mines Cemetery, Friday, October 13th.

He was a kind husband, loving father and devoted Christian, having professed faith in Christ and joined the Church at the age of twenty; forty years of his life was given in the service of the Lord, being sixty years old when he departed this life.

He leaves a widow, two daughters, Miss Blanche Park and Mrs. Claud Bratcher, two sons, Wavie and Arless, and one brother Milton Park of Centertown, and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

ENJOYABLE OCCASION

The social meeting held at the Methodist church last Saturday evening, by the S. S. Class of Judge Wilson, was largely attended and highly enjoyed by all. The class is composed entirely of women and the married members had their husbands present as guests in addition to quite a number of other guests.

A splendid dinner was served after which contests were engaged in which afforded pretty good brain tests. Paper containing the picture of various objects was cut in half and the drawing and matching of the cut parts determined as to who were partners or companions at dinner, and for the evening.

JNANANJAN NIYOGI AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Jnananjan Niyogi, of Calcutta, India, a social and temperance lecturer and organizer spoke at the Hartford Baptist Church Wednesday evening to a packed house. His main topic was "India Cursed by Strong Drink." The Hindu handled his subject in such a manner as to arouse favorable comment from the large audience present. George W. Morrow, D. D., of Detroit, Mich., also delivered a short address which was likewise well received.

WHITTEN—ANTHONY

Miss Ollie Whitten and Mr. Delbert Anthony, popular young people of Fordsville, came to Hartford Tuesday, procured a marriage license and were joined in wedlock, at the Methodist parsonage, the Rev. T. T. Frazier, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Whitten, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reece Anthony.

LITCHFIELD—MORRIS

Miss Allie Reed Litchfield, of Princeton, Ky., and Mr. O. M. Harris, of Water Valley, Ky., a student at Bowling Green, were married Tuesday afternoon by the Rev. James A. Chancellors, pastor of the State Street Methodist church. The bride is a daughter of the Rev. A. D. Litchfield, pastor of the Methodist church at Princeton.—Louisville Herald.

STINNETT—BENNETT

Miss Helen Stinnett, of Buford, and Mr. Jno. L. Bennett, of Livia, were married in Livermore Sunday. The Rev. E. S. Moore performed the ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stinnett, while the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bennett. Both of the contracting parties are popular young people.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith Hoover and children, Darrell and Virginia, of Dyersburg, Tenn., arrived in Hartford Friday afternoon of last week, to be the guests of Mr. Hoover's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Hoover, and other relatives. They went to Central City Sunday, to visit relatives.

"PROSPERITY SURE" SAYS BIG BUSINESS

Country Making Rapid Strides To Return to Good Times

Washington, Oct. 19 (Capital News Service).—From all sides comes assurance that the country is making rapid progress towards a supernormalcy, which will spell full dinner pails, coin bins, and bank accounts. Roger W. Babson, noted statistician, sees that we are at the beginning of an upward swing to a peak of prosperity which will not be reached for two years at least.

B. C. Forbes has charts and figures to prove that the country is but entering the period of good times from the period of bad times which were the reaction from war inflation.

The Department of Labor finds that the Nation is calling for labor, and that the unemployment situation of a few months ago is so altered as to be unrecognizable.

The coal strike is over and while coal will not be plentiful, there is no famine or fuel hardship in sight. Textile strikes in New England are rapidly being settled; the railroad strike is "off" so far as the carriers and the public are concerned; and the steel industries show a large unfilled tonnage and increase in employment.

Building construction all over the country has taken a new lease of life, and the housing shortage which is practically Nation wide, is being to some extent relieved if not cured.

The new tariffs have not yet proved as upsetting in financial circles as its opponents prophesied, and the recent announcement of the Government that no new taxes were in prospect, and the shelving of the bonus bill idea for an indefinite period have removed the spectre of increased income taxes.

LOUISVILLE MARKETS

Cattle—Midweek trade ruled dull and inactive on most classes, and in between kinds were hard to dispose of at weaker rates. Light demand for the best heavyweight butchers; others slow and draggy at low time opening day.

PROPOSED R. R. WILL OPEN VAST EMPIRE

San Juan Basin In States Of Southwest Will Flourish

Durango, Col., Oct. 14.—A vast empire of undeveloped land in Southwestern Colorado, Northwestern New Mexico and Southeastern Utah will be opened up with the building of what will be known as the San Juan Railroad, in the belief of business leaders in the San Juan basin.

Plans for financing the road, which will run from Durango, Cal., to Gallup, N. M., were completed at a mass-meeting of citizen here and start soon.

The San Juan basin which will be "tapped" by the new railroad, covers an area of 30,000 square miles and is considered one of the richest areas of natural resources in the United States.

Rich in Resources.

Of the 20,000,000 acres in the basin there are 8,000,000 acres of coal lands, 3,000,000 acres of irrigable land, with nine good-sized streams, providing ample water, and 1,500,000 acres of metaliferous land. The remaining acreage is in timber and what are termed "dry farms" land. The latter, however, comprise some excellent farm lands.

Almost every kind of grain and fruit that can be grown in the United States can be raised on the fertile soil of the rich valleys of the basin. It is claimed, and in the western section of the basin, near Monticello, Utah, fine hard-wheat land is found in abundance.

It is estimated by the United States Geological Survey that there are 5,000,000,000 board feet of timber on the mountain slopes of the territory.

In the Silverton, Ouray and Telluride districts, included within the boundaries of the San Juan basin, are found some of the richest gold and silver mines in Colorado, as well as copper, lead and zinc mines.

Various sections of the basin afford first-class grazing for live stock, and the mountains and parks provide wonderful scenic beauties.

One of the largest natural gas wells in the Rocky Mountain region was brought in recently south of Durango, and within the confines of the basin there are also valuable stone quarries.

Road Itself Small Project.

Construction of the new railroad, a comparatively small undertaking in itself, will involve the expenditure of approximately $3,000,000. A syndicate headed by Los Angeles men is behind the project, aided by hundreds of land owners in region. The road will not only provide an outlet for farm products and manufactured articles, but may result in the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad changing to a broad gauge track the present Alamosa-Durango branch, which would mean the opening up of a new Pacific Coast route from Denver to Los Angeles that would be 300 or 400 miles shorter than any existing transcontinental route. This road would traverse the most scenic section of the Rocky Mountains, carrying the tourists almost beneath the overhanging cliffs of the Mesa Verde National Park in which are found some of the best preserved and most wonderful cliff dwellers' ruins that have ever been uncovered in North or South America.

One of the greatest development campaigns in the history of the West is expected to result from the building of the San Juan Railroad, and it is believed that the "Basin" will eventually swell its 30,000 population to the several hundred thousand that it can easily accommodate.

Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation
Chamberlain's Tablets have restored to health and happiness hundreds who were afflicted with indigestion, biliousness and constipation. If you are troubled in this way give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased for they will benefit you.

EXPLOSION SPREADS DEATH.

The explosion caused by lightning striking Falconara fort near Spezia, Italy, lifted off the top of the hill on which the fort was located and destroyed everything within a radius of 10 miles. Practically the entire naval garrison was killed, more than 140 dead resulting from the blowing up of the 1,500 tons of explosives. The towns of San Terenzo and Pitelli on the gulf of Spezia were badly damaged, while property in a wide area bordering the gulf suffered severely. The explosion occurred during a violent storm which did much damage to the crops.

28 PORKERS GAIN 1,030 POUNDS IN 30-DAY TRIAL

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 14.—Market hogs can be fed for as short a time as a month and still make money for their owners, according to results obtained by W. F. Wilson, a Pulaski county farmer living near Nancy, who has just finished a hog feeding test which he carried out in co-operation with County Agent W. C. Wilson and the extension division of the College of Agriculture. Despite the fact that they were fed only 30 days, the 28 pure bred Hampshires used in the test made a profit of $29.25. This return of more than a dollar an animal is said to be good in view of the short feeding period. During the 30 days, the 28 hogs made a total gain of 1,030 pounds, or 36.8 pounds each, which was an average daily gain of 1.22 pounds for each animal.

A girl wrote a composition about "Grant's Work in the Civil War." She got on most credibly until she reached Lee's surrender at Appomattox Courthouse. She then related how Lee wore his sword and was handsomely attired in full uniform. "While Grant," she announced, "had on nothing but a ragged Union suit."

DAVIS URGE RAIL BOARD ABOLISHMENT

Secretary's Plea Indicates Legislation To Be Asked For.

Athens, O., Oct. 14.—The administration's program for dealing with future railroad labor controversies was revealed in a speech here tonight by Secretary of Labor Davis.

In a nutshell, Secretary Davis flatly advocated the abolition of the Railroad Labor Board created under the Esch-Cummins act and restoration of the system of mediation and conciliation under the former Newlands and Eardman acts.

The secretary's carefully prepared outline of the administration's policy was accepted as indicating that legislation to carry it into effect will be introduced and pressed at the coming session of Congress.

There has been a general demand in Congress for some time for drastic modification of the Esch-Cummins act. This sentiment has been echoed in the campaign by former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, again running for the Senate on the Republican ticket.

Neither the railroads nor the unions have been satisfied with the labor board, particularly since the shopmen's strike was called.

Prefacing his remarks with assurance that President Harding "wants machinery provided that will insure to workers not only in transportation but in other industry, an adequate wage that will make strikes unnecessary," Secretary Davis said:

"I am confident that every industrial dispute can be settled if both sides will sit down in a spirit of fairness and justice to discuss the matters at issue around the council table."

He declared he was "utterly unable to discover the wisdom of any such quasi-governmental partisan institution as the Railroad Labor Board," adding:

"To my mind the experience of the board has demonstrated that it is incapable of fulfilling the high hopes of those who proposed and supported it as a means of industrial peace on the railroads. . . . it has the effect of making every petty trade disagreement a matter for federal determination. One of the difficulties encountered by the board has been the lack of any conciliatory agency in consideration of minor disputes up to the time they reach the board itself."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

LIFE'S DARKEST MOMENT.

A fashionable wedding was being celebrated in Philadelphia at one of the exclusive social clubs. One couple arrived very early, and in alighting from the auto the gentleman slipped and ripped his trousers in a very noticeable manner. His wife hurried him into the ladies' retiring room. "Owing to their early arrival, there was no one in this room but the maid, who was well supplied with needle, thread, etc., for emergencies. The wife placed her husband behind a screen; he passed his trousers over to her, and she handed them to the maid for repairs. Before the trousers had been mended a number of women were trying to get into the room, and the wife was trying to hold them out. At last she turned in despair to a door just back of her husband, pulled it open, shoved him through, and slammed the door. The husband pounded on the door and yelled, "For heaven's sake, let me in! I'm in the ballroom!"—Argonaut.

PASSION PLAY A SUCCESS.

With the passion play at Oberammergau finished and all visitors departed it was found that the summer's work had netted about 20,000,000 marks. The sale of books, photographs and souvenirs added 4,000,000 more, while all the shops and restaurants in the little town had swelled bank accounts and empty stock rooms. It was estimated that some 315,000 visitors, including 18,000 Americans, came to see the performances, which are not to be repeated for 10 years. At the close of the season an offer of more than $1,000,000 was made for the privilege of filming the play, but it was not accepted, in spite of the fact that the amount was 60 times the profits realized.

"Was Solomon wise man?" inquired Little Johnny.
"Yes, my son, he was very wise," replied Mr. Squidgia.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Real Cord Tire for Small Cars at a Popular Price

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord in the 30 x 3 1/2 inch clincher type is a tire that the small car owner will warmly welcome.

It gives him, at a price lower than the net price he is asked to pay for many "long discount" tires, every advantage of quality cord tire performance, for it is a quality tire through and through.

It is made of high-grade long-staple cotton; it embodies the reliable Goodyear quality of materials; its clean-cut tread engages the road like a cogwheel.

The scientific distribution of rubber in this tread—the wide center rib and the semi-flat contour—gives a thick, broad surface that is exceedingly slow to wear.

The tough tread stock in this tire is carried down the sidewalls clear to the bead, making it rut-proof to an extraordinary degree.

In every particular it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.

Despite its high quality, and the expertness of its construction, it sells at a price as low or lower than that of tires which lack its important features.

The 30 x 3 1/2 inch Cross-Rib Cord clincher $12.50

This price includes manufacturer's excise tax Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tires are also made in 6, 7 and 8 inch sizes for trucks

IRELAND CHAMPION RUMOR DISPENSER

Helsingfors Losing Ground As Foremost Factory Of Baseless Reports.

Dublin, Oct. 14.—Helsingfors has been the great European rumor factory ever since Russia revolted. Now Dublin bids fair to displace Helsingfors and garner the honors for number and quality of rumors.

There are rumors of every sort in Dublin, and the whispering circles spread these irresponsible reports with the greatest avidity.

One of the choicest rumors recently circulated with that Lloyd George was spending several days as the guest of Erskine Childers, leader of the irregulars, in the irregular headquarters in the Galtee Mountains. No one knows just whence the rumor came, but since Childers is regarded as a tool of English diehards who are striving to wreck the Free State, the rumor probably came from sources desiring to discredit faith in England.

De Valera has been killed innumerable times by rumor. He has been wounded by rumor and put in his death bed by rumor.

Childers has also been made the subject of interesting rumors among which are stories of his escape to England and his escape to America.

The story that Arthur Griffith died from poisoning was circulated for many weeks in Ireland before it was eventually printed in America and subsequently denied.

Tales of all sorts of atrocities are circulated by sympathizers of both sides in the civil war. A nervous nation seizes upon these reports and rumors with consequent inflamed hatred.

The killing of Michael Collins is still the subject of Dame Rumor's machinations, and all sorts of tales may be heard as to the manner in which he met death, who his assailants were and what has happened to them.

Ireland has a very bad case of war nerves. After seven years of almost constant warfare the Irish people are prepared for almost any event, and even the wildest tales are met with credulity.

The Irish censorship has been lifted and many of these wild rumors trickle out to the rest of the world, but the good sense of the newspaper correspondents, in Ireland checks many more.

BRIDE HURLS BIBLE AT GROOM AND KILLS HIM

Geneva, Oct. 14.—A young Italian in his first domestic quarrel met death at the hands of his bride from a blow with a Bible.

The young Italian arrived at Lake Como on his honeymoon. He engaged in a trivial quarrel with his bride. Heated words passed. The woman, exasperated, threw a heavy metal-bound Bible at her husband, striking him on the temple and killing him instantly.

BEST METHOD OF CURING MEAT WILL BE EXPLAINED

Lexington, Oct. 14.—Best methods for the home curing of meats will be explained to farmers in many Kentucky counties during the coming winter by means of meetings and demonstrations to be held by the extension division of the College of Agriculture, according to an announcement by Grady Sellards, swine specialist of the college, who will have charge of the work. The meetings, which already have been started and which will continue until the first of February of next year, will be confined to the eastern and western parts of the state. Curing by use of salt and sorghum molasses, which is one of the oldest and most successful methods known, will be advocated through the meetings. At the present time, almost two-thirds of the farmers in the state cure their meat by the use of salt alone.

The method which will be advocated already has been tested out and found successful by a number of farmers in Lawrence, Boyd and Floyd counties last year cured their meat by the sorghum molasses method while more than 40 farmers in Marshall county found the same method highly successful when they tried it out last year.

Some of the points which Mr. Sellards will stress in the meetings are: 1.—Be sure that the carcass is thoroughly cooled out as animal heat promotes rapid spoiling. 2.—Trim hams, shoulders and bacon neatly. Fat edges do not make a good cured product. They should be rendered into lard or made into sausage. 3.—Put a heavy layer of salt on each layer of meat, or bury the meat in salt, as it is being packed in a large churn or oak barrel. 4.—Two days for each pound are required for a single piece to cure. That is, a 16-pound ham should cure 20 days. A curing day is any one in which the temperature is above freezing. 5.—After the meat is removed from the salt, brush off the crusty layer, wash in luke warm water, hang up and let drip for 12 hours. 6.—Smoke with hard wood, hickory preferred, for about six days or until the meat is an amber color. 7.—Apply warm sorghum molasses to meat until all pores are filled. 8.—Let hang several days before making second application of molasses. 9.—Wrap with heavy paper, then with muslin cloth. Make insect proof. 10.—Hang in dark, dry place with hock joints of hams down.

TO BUILD NEW PORT.

A new Polish seaport is to be built at Gdynia for which the Polish diet has appropriated 50,000,000 gold marks. Hitherto the country has depended on the port of the free city of Danzig, but owing to the growth of Polish shipping greater port facilities were needed. Since Danzig had evinced a profiteering spirit in the face of Polish needs it was decided to build the new harbor which will be 42 feet deep whereas the harbor of Danzig has a depth of only 24 feet.

JAILED FOR RISKING LIFE.

In view of the large number of persons annually killed in the hazardous employment of cleaning windows the labor law was passed in New York to compel window cleaners to provide themselves with certain safety devices while working on the outside of high buildings. Peter Hutsolick climbed up into an outside window of a 12-story building without any safety device in open defiance of the law. He was arrested and given his choice of a $20 fine or imprisonment. He chose the latter.

BIG ROAD-BUILDING PROGRAM IN SIGHT

Fifteen to twenty years of building good roads lie ahead of the United States. Under the program which the country has adopted there will be built, during that time 180,000 miles of improved highways which will constitute the Federal-aid highway system and an equal or greater mileage of State and local roads. When the great job is done, the transportation facilities of the country will far exceed those of any other nation, past or present, in the world. The highways of the ancient Romans, whose fame has come down through the centuries, will pale by comparison.

Details of this vast road-building program are to be placed before the Highway Education Board at its conference in Washington October 26 to 28, inclusive, by State Highway Engineers and officials of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, to whom has been entrusted the work of planning and supervising the construction of Federal-aid highways. The plan will be presented to enable the Board to proceed authoritatively with its work of devising aids for schools and colleges to which road-builders of the country are turning for competent highway engineers.

Officials of the bureau place the aggregate cost of the Federal-aid program alone at about $3,000,000,000, spread over the twenty-year period. They base this estimate on an average cost of $17,000 per mile. The average cost, in turn, takes into consideration all classes of improved roadways from the cheapest to the most expensive types. Approximately one-third of the proposed system, or 60,000 miles of improved highways, already are either built or building. The program is a new one. Up to comparatively recent years, road-building in the United States had been conducted without special regard to a national system. Highways have been constructed where needed without considering whether they would link up in the most effective manner with the whole network of roads to be spread over the Nation. Engineers had sought more to meet immediate and local demands than the broader requirements of the States and Nation.

The present Federal-aid-road-building program, officials of the bureau state, will contemplate the construction of only such roads as fit into the national program and contribute to the national system. At the same time the roads will be so selected as to serve the most important local requirements. With marked modifications, the system adopted in building the railways of the country will be borne in mind in the construction of the country's new highways. There will be main lines of highway communication between centers and thousands of miles of the more sparsely settled regions and into the rich agricultural sections, to tap areas whose population and products will flow over the new system.

New roads will be planned and built—thousands of miles of them—where they will fit in most advantageously with the entire program. The bureau is continuing its research work into most efficient methods of road-building, including the character and wearing power of materials, resisting qualities of varying sub-soils, etc., and has amassed a considerable store of valuable information all of which will be available for the highway engineer of to-morrow, whom the Board is seeking to have education in practical and modern methods.

RAIL TRACKMEN GET PAY RAISE

450,000 Workers Get Advance Of 2 Cents An Hour.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—The wage bill of the nation's railroads was increased and estimated $22,125,000 by a decision of the Railroad Labor Board today granting increased pay of two cents an hour to more than 450,000 maintenance of way employees.

Four of nine groups of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railroad Shop Workers are affected, the largest single group being common laborers. The decision raised rates of pay from the present twenty-three and thirty-five cents to twenty-five and thirty-seven cents.

Chairman Ben W. Hooper, of the labor board, in a statement said that the board based its finding on a general upward trend in wages since the board's decision of last July reducing wages of this and other groups of workmen.

The decision marked a victory for the public group of the board, which proposed the two-cent officers in presenting their case had demanded a virtual minimum wage of forty-seven cents an hour.

While the decision was not a review of that of last July, it was a direct outgrowth of these wage cuts and the rail strikes and threatened strikes which followed. When the shopcrafts strike was declared the maintenance of way men were also on the verge of walking out, but E. F. Grable, head of the organization, withheld action pending an appeal to the Labor Board for a revision of wages. Mr. Grable was defeated for re-election yesterday at Detroit by his organization, his handling of the wage controversy being one of the matters involved.

Chairman Hooper explained that about 13,000 maintenance of way employees on road in the extreme South will still receive from 17 to 23 cents an hour, they having signed agreements with the carriers to this effect and not being affected by the ruling.

JAPAN FOLLOWS U. S. IN CRAZE FOR RADIO

Tokio, Oct. 14.—The first radio-telephone trial in Japan has been held before representatives of the Tokio press. One company has been granted permission by the Government to carry on this work in the same way as the radio stations in the United States and a regular daily programme of broadcasting news, weather reports, stock exchange prices and music has been started. The Department of Communications has relaxed its former censorship.

A local company represents several American radio companies and small factories are engaged in making, sending and receiving sets. Osaka will be the next city to establish a station, and by January 1, it is hoped to have twelve sets installed in the larger cities of the Empire.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. This alone is enough to convince one that it is a medicine of more than ordinary merit. Give it a trial and you will find this to be the case.

SCHOOL CHILDREN STRIKE.

The schools of McAdoo, Pa., were closed as the result of a strike by the pupils who protested the election of new teachers in place of old ones. The latter had refused to renew their contracts until they were paid six weeks salary claimed to be due from last year. Most of the pupils returned to school when the board of directors threatened to make wholesale arrests for violation of the compulsory attendance law.

"Well, then, why didn't he give each one of those wives an incubator and some eggs?" queried Johnny. "He could have made a lot of money that way."—Capper's Farmer.

DE VALERA LOSES LEADERSHIP.

According to documents captured by Free State forces and read to the dail efreann by Gen. Mulcahy a disagreement between De Valera and Liam Lynch resulted in the former's withdrawing from the leadership of the Irish irregular republicans. It was denied by the Free State government that any negotiations were being carried on with De Valera or Lynch. It was also reported that De Valera had confessed to making a mistake in precipitating a civil war in Ireland.

William Cosgrave, president of the dail efreann, has demonstrated his control of that body and it was made clear that the treaty with Great Britain brought back by Griffith and Collins will be ratified. As the treaty was debated labor members of the dail offered many amendments to limit the influence of the crown in Irish affairs but all such amendments were voted down. Irregulars have continued to ambush national troops in the heart of Dublin. Occasional surprise attacks have been made by the irregulars in various places in Ireland but without much damage.

BIBLICAL INJUNCTIONS

Walk Straight:—Because straight is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth into life, and few there be that find it.—Matt. 7:14.

Imagine Not Evil Things:—And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbor; and love no false oath; for these are things I hate, saith the Lord.—Zech. 8:17.

Judge Not:—Judge not, and ye shall not be judged; condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned, forgive and ye shall be forgiven.—Luke 6:37.

Trust in the Lord:—The Lord redeemeth the son of his servants; and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate.—Psalm 34:22.

Forsake Wrath:—Cease from anger and forsake; fret not thyself in any wise to do evil.—Psalm 37:8.

Obeys the Lord:—Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the imagination of their evil heart; therefore, I will bring upon them all the words of this covenant, which I command them to do, but they did them not.—Jeremiah 11:8.

Fear Not the Lord:—The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?—Psalm 27:1.

Mrs. Critic:—The acourties are bad in this theater, aren't they?

Mrs. Shocked:—My dear, they are positively immoral.—Judge.

Typewriter:—You told me you were going to raise my salary last week, sir.

Boss:—I know, and I did raise it; but I expect to have a very hard time to raise it this week.

"Congratulate me, Jim. I am engaged to Betty Flyrte."

"I'm awfully sorry, old man, but I can't conscientiously do it. I'm engaged to Betty myself."

As Mrs. Henna Henek opened the door of the office she came full upon her husband holding the stenographer on his lap and caressing her. But she didn't cause a scene.

"How do you like working for daddy?" she asked her daughter.

Which Daily Paper?

A Question That Is Quickly and Readily Answered.

The Courier-Journal

Largest Morning Circulation of Any Kentucky Newspaper

Enjoys a nation-wide prestige and reputation. It is essentially a newspaper, intent upon giving news matter first consideration.

Maintains its own news bureaus at Washington and Frankfort. Member of the Associated Press.

With important legislation coming before Congress and Kentucky General Assembly in 1922, The Courier-Journal is the daily newspaper you will need.

By special arrangements we are now able to offer

THE DAILY COURIER-JOURNAL

—AND—

THE REPUBLICAN

Both one year, by mail, for only $5.75.

This offer applies to renewals as well as new subscriptions, but only to people living in Kentucky, Tennessee or Indiana. New subscriptions may, if desired, start at a later date, and renewals will date from expiration of present ones.

If you prefer an evening newspaper, you may substitute The Louisville Times for The Courier-Journal. Send or bring your orders to this office.

some chorus.

Chicago Tribune:—There is no reason why the use of the bicycle should not be recognized in road building. Cycle paths could be made alongside the roads at little additional cost.

Detroit News:—If the prodigal son returns this winter he musn't complain if his veal is cold.

Forbes Magazine:—The final question shall be not, How much have you? but, How much have you done?

Kewanee Star-Courier:—The real improvement from the depression following the war's deflation must come through better prices for farm products.

Cincinnati Enquirer:—Think of what might happen if someone invented an amplifier to be attached to the still, small voice of conscience.

Newark Call:—If all the money in the United States were equally divided among the people, each person would have $39.93, and next day about nine-tenths of the population would be dead broke and the other tenth would have it all.

Winston-Salem Journal:—If, some means are not provided to keep foreign liquors away from our shores our home industry is going to suffer.

Washington Star:—It may be that from the blood of the men massacred at Herrin while defending their right to work—while earning their bread in the sweat of their faces—will spring a spirit strengthening the law and putting more power in the elbows of the men selected to execute the law.

Harrisburg Patriot:—Sometimes all the early bird gets is hungry before breakfast.

Toledo Blade:—One thing that always saves this country during a crisis is that not half the people go crazy at the same time.

FRIDAY,.....OCTOBER 20

The divorce evil between man and wife bids fair to be lessened by the murder of one or the other, by the other.

We note in the Times, "From Mills Point to the Big Sandy", that Old-time Singing Conventions are returning and also accounts of conventions down in the Purchase and in Barren County. The Editor of that column has failed to keep track of the doings in Ohio county, for, during the past several years each fifth Sunday is devoted to singing conventions and due to the large number of choirs taking part in these commendable occasions, it is not infrequently that as many as three conventions are held on the same date within the County.

The social gathering recently given at a local church, under the auspices of a section of the Sunday School, composed entirely of ladies, afforded strong evidence as to the beneficent results of good natured intercourse and mingling of the people, even though it was really upon a small scale in this instance. There is nothing better for a community than general good will and fellowship and without bringing the people together occasionally, complete good will has but small chance to exist.
When we speak of bringing the people together, we do not mean a S.
S. class, no, not even the members of any one church, but the entire community. Dissension, divisions and bickerings that mar, dwarf and hinder progress and make us narrow and selfish can't live long in a community where all the people have frequent and wholesome social intercourse through neighborly gatherings. In the right sort of spirit, by the proper sort of understanding, one with another, divisions upon questions as to local public welfare would rarely ever exist. How about engaging more in pure social life in this community?

"Jones", who happens to be the American Farmer, is playing the role of the goat for almost every other class of workingman and producer in the United States, according to Government statistics compiled and recently released. During September, past, the price of general farm products decreased 2 per cent. The average price of all farm products on Oct. 1 was 45.5 per cent below that of the same date in 1920 and 30.1 per cent below the average for the past 10 years as of date, Oct. 1. The meat producing animals: hogs, cattle, sheep and chickens suffered less in price slump, being on the whole 8.1 per cent higher than a year ago, but 37.1 per cent lower than two years ago and 20.5 per cent lower than the average of the past 10 years as of September 15. If there is any class of factory, mill or other productions that shows anything like such a slump in price we can't figure out just what it is. In fact, all other classes of labor, freight rates and every thing that has to do with the farmer's daily life, including coal, which all must have, will show a marked increase over the ten year period, yet they all object to being brought to the general level-strike and close up shop when the matter is mentioned. Eventually prices for products and remuneration for labor of every description must be equalized with those obtained by the class feeding the Nation and the date of equalization must not be far away in order to avert bankruptcy and ruin of the greatest class in the Country.

BALD KNOB

Rev. Riggs filled his regular appointment at this church Saturday and Sunday with very good attendance.

Mr. Clay Leach and Miss Martyne
Taylor were united in marriage by Rev. Riggs, at the home of Mr. Nute
Havens, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. John Harlen Railey and family visited Mr. Jake Leach and family Sunday.

Miss Nellie Daugherty visited Miss Bessie Leach, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Havens and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Norval Leach Sunday.

OLATON, ROUTE 1

Mrs. Leta Faught, of Olaton, made a trip to Beaver Dam Monday returning in the afternoon.

An automobile is reported to have been stolen from the premises of Mr.
Oscar Allen in the Horton country, Sunday night. The car was recovered in the forenoon of Monday on the highway near Taylor Mines.

Mrs. Frances E. Allen of Rosine, left last Saturday for an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Lula Cook, in Louisville.

Mr. E. D. Oldham of Elizabethtown, who formerly resided at Beaver Dam, has just returned from a visit in the latter city to his son, Mr.
Latna Oldham.

Mr. Walter Burden, Chief of Police, of Fordsville, was in Beaver Dam Monday, on business.

Alfred Woolen and Dewey Woolen of Hopewell, Grayson County, who have been working at Taylor Mines, were the guests of their parents from Saturday until Sunday.

Mr. John Goodman and Rev.
Jackson Allen of the Rosine country, were in Hartford and Beaver Dam last Friday, on a business trip.

Mrs. Mary Goff of Neafus, was the guest of relatives at Rosine, several days recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Allen and little daughter, Miss Eva Allen, drove to Williams Mines, from their home in Beaver Dam, last Sunday, and visited Mr. Allen's sister, Mrs. Tom Peach and Mr. Peach.

Mr. Joe L. Smith, of Olaton, who for some months has been working in Louisville, was in Hartford and Beaver Dam last Monday, executing some business matters.

Mr. Wilbert Halle, of Olaton, has recently recovered his cottage near the old water Mill in E. Main and Stone street.

The recent rains have been generally welcomed thruout the county where the drought was materially felt in the lack of sufficient drinking and stock water.

An examination was held at Central City, October 14th, for the purpose of filling a vacancy in the post office at Beaver Dam. Seven candidates took the examination. They were:
Dick Arbuckle, Morton Williams, C.
P. Hodges, John F. Allen, J. A.
Leach, Jesse Blankenship and Miss Edith Porter, all residing within the delivery of that office. A young lady by the name of Paris, who had not met certain requirements for admission to the examination was not permitted to enter.

Several persons from this section will attend the School Fair at Fordville. Heretofore the day has been one of much educational moment, and looked forward to with interest by young and old of this part of the county.

The building fever is on everywhere; country and city alike undergo a reconstruction. The rural sections are dotted here and there with bungalow, cottage, granary or housing quarters that all indicate a spirit of activity and prosperity not seen in many years. In the villages and larger towns more modern structures are in evidence. Mr. Lewis Martin is rebuilding a very pretty home two miles west of Olaton, on the site of the old homestead of his father, the late Anderson Martin. Three new buildings in Beaver Dam are nearing completion in North Central Avenue.
The Baptist church under construction in Beaver Dam is a modern structure, and will be a land mark in this section. In South Main street several blocks away is a couple of new residences, as is also the fact on North Main, near the intersection of Horton road. The Commercial Hotel, destroyed in the big fire of February 1921, is being rebuilt by J. T. Vinson. It has the appearance of an up to date affair, and is said to be a three-story, containing 20 rooms.

More recently a very pretty stone church was erected on East Fourth and Church streets by the colored people. The pastor is J. W. Pinkney.

PUBLIC AUCTION—Beginning at 10 a. m. Friday November 3, I will offer for sale at public auction the following property of the late Mrs.

The 1923 Six Cylinder
Sport Touring—$1675

Equally suited to the rigors of everyday business driving and to carefree outing tours and social motoring, the new six cylinder sport touring combines the well known Buick sturdiness and dependability with a snappiness and sparkling beauty that mark it as a distinctively smart motor car.

Rich, contrasting colors, set off with brightly polished nickel radiator and fittings heighten the sweeping lines of the long wheelbase and body. The roomy seats are upholstered in fine embossed leather, and every driving and riding comfort and facility are provided. Clock, speedometer, cigar lighter, gasoline and oil gauges, lighting and ignition switches and ammeter, long, nickel-plated gear shift lever, windshield wiper and rear vision mirror are among the convenient details that are standard equipment.

New rear spring suspension, and snubbers on the front springs have brought greater riding ease while the famous Buick Valve-in-Head engine has been so refined as to increase its traditional power and dependability.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

The 15,000 negro farm boys enrolled in crop and live-stock clubs in 1921, under the direction of agricultural-extension workers raised products valued at $230,000, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Both feed and care of 1,600,000 hams giving no returns were saved in 1921, reports to the United States Department of Agriculture show, when farm women, practicing for the first time the methods of identifying nonlayers demonstrated by agricultural extension agents, culled these "loafers" from their flocks.

Over 350,000 farmers, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture, introduced legumes, principally soy beans, cowpeas, velvet beans, and alfalfa into their cropping system as a result of demonstrations in the use of legumes in soil improvement given in 1921 by agricultural-extension agents.

Farmers in Independence County, Ark., have shipped cooperatively this year 15 carloads of hogs fer and standardized for shipment according to methods advocated by extension workers. A report to the United States Department of Agriculture says they received $300 a carload over the local price offered.

That many farm boys who enroll as club members in the production of live stock and crops become successful farmers is demonstrated in the case of eight young men living in Itaska County, Minn., who carried on club demonstrations from three to four years. According to a report to the United States Department of Agriculture four of them are now engaged in general farming, three of whom are growing certified potato seed, one is a dairy farmer, two are students at Minnesota college of agriculture, and one is studying for the ministry.

Club Boys Are Successful Farmers.

That farm boys who have been enrolled for three or more years in club work, since its inception 10 years ago, developed into successful farmers and community leaders was shown in a recent survey made by the extension service of the Iowa State College of Agriculture, in Henry, Blackhawk, Marshall, Clinton, Scott and Jackson counties. In making the survey 215 former club members were visited who are farming or attending an agricultural college. Eighteen of them are already prominent in community organizations. Twelve are attending the State college of agriculture. In Blackhawk County, of 17 former members in pig-club work, 11 are now swine breeders. Each of the 215 former members were asked the question: "What is the most important thing you have gotten out of club work?" The two most popular answers were: "It kept me on the farm," and "It got me interested in good live stock."

Win Swine Judging Honors.

Farm boys and girls of Tripp County, S. Dak., recently demonstrated the value of their extension training in a contest held by the inter-county swine breeders' association in judging four pens of hogs of different breeds by easily winning the first 32 places in the contest, according to a report received by the United States Department of Agriculture. Four counties were represented by the 90 youngsters competing, but the young farmers from Tripp County, who were all members of the county sow and litter club, had been the only competitors systematically trained in live-stock judging by an extension agent.

Wyoming Hopes To Secure Grass-Hopper Law Next Year.

Efforts are being made in Wyoming to secure a grasshopper law similar to those of North Dakota and South Dakota, according to a representative of the United States Department of Agriculture, who recently inspected the districts seriously infested with grasshoppers this year. Wyoming suffered more than any other State. It is probable that the injury will be continued next year. An egg survey now being made by Federal entomologists, cooperating with the State agricultural college, will determine to what extent and where infestation is most likely to occur next season.

The situation at present appears to be discouraging as the grasshoppers attack alfalfa and other important crops, and the cost and trouble of incessant poisoning is a heavy burden on the farmer. The population of Wyoming is small and widely scattered, but it is believed that it will be possible in the near future to obtain a law providing funds for grass-hopper protection. In North Dakota, on petition of 10 per cent of the farmers in a district, the county commissioners are empowered to levy a tax and set aside a sufficient sum for a grasshopper campaign. The United States Department of Agriculture has promised to do what it can to aid Wyoming farmers.

Experiments Shed New Light On Causes of Rots of Corn.

The severity of the root, stalk and ear rots of corn, diseases found to be more or less widely distributed throughout the corn belt, can be greatly reduced by properly balancing the fertilizing elements in the soil and by planting selected strains of corn. These conclusions are the result of investigations carried on by Agriculture, in cooperation with a number of State experiment stations in the Middle West.

In the past it was not thought that the corn plant was particularly sensitive to the balance of the various elements in the soil, but now the damage caused by these rots is believed to depend largely upon these conditions and upon climatic factors. Also the nature of the plant itself—what plant breeders call the genetic composition has much to do with its susceptibility or resistance to these rots. In the experimental fields self-fertilized strains of corn of many different varieties are showing peculiarities formerly regarded as symptoms of root, stalk, and ear rots, and many strains are being isolated for many generations, show resistance to the organisms associated with the rots.

Reducing the losses from these rots is a complex problem, requiring much more investigation. At present the department can go little farther than to say that primarily it involves a careful consideration of environment, soil fertility, and the nature of the particular strain of corn.

Seed Distributed in Hawaii

During the past year seed of improved pigeon peas, grown by Hawaiian farmers from seed stocks distributed by the Federal agricultural experiment station of Hawaii, were distributed to despondent growers. It is reported to the United States Department of Agriculture, in sufficient quantities to plant 4,000 acres. Experiments by the Hawaiian experiment station have shown the value of the pigeon pea as a good pasture crop which, it has been found, under favorable conditions, will support throughout the year from one and a half to three head of mature cattle in prime condition. From 3 to 5 acres of native pasture grass on the same land would be required per head of cattle.

County Agent Work in Louisiana

Successful extension work in a section where the plantation system of farming prevails is reported to the United States Department of Agriculture in the case of Madison Parish, Louisiana. There are approximately 100 plantations in the parish, practically all of which the county extension agent visits in the course of a year. Last year 35 per cent of these plantations were aided in their pecan work 15 per cent carried on demonstrations in soil improvement, and 8 per cent received help in live-stock sanitation. In carrying on these demonstrations the farm manager acts as the local leader, and through him practically all the tenants benefit from the extension agent's activities.

Weather Forecasts Save Fruit Growers Much Money.

Special weather forecasts furnished by the United States Department of Agriculture, thru county extension agents in seven New York counties were of direct service to over 2,500 fruit growers in that State in guiding their spraying operations and saved them several thousands of dollars in the management of their fruit crop, according to reports to the New York State College of Agriculture. In four of these counties a telephone relay system was developed, by means of which it was possible to warn the growers quickly when it was time to apply the spray. This system was used thruout the season whenever occasion demanded. At other times and in counties where this relay system was not used circular letters and post cards carried the information.

Destructive Wolf Is Caught.

"Hunter Bud Webley has trapped the Hanford wolf." That was the welcome message received one day in September by the predatory animal inspector of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Olympia, Wash. For two and a half years this elusive marauder had preyed on the herds and flocks for miles around, and for months the canny hunter had laid traps for him. From statements made by stockmen it is probable that this single wolf has killed at least $5,000 worth of live stock.

The trap that finally closed on the killer was carefully concealed in a trail. The wolf dragged trap and chain nearly 7 miles before the hunter overtook and shot him. The tape line showed him to be 5 feet 8 inches from tip to tip. The skin and skull will be sent to the Biological Survey at Washington, D. C.

County Live-Stock Sales Improves Older Methods.

A method that should be found effective in improving live stock in all parts of the country has been tried out with much success recently in Tennessee, says a report to the United States Department of Agriculture. It consists of a series of county sales of pure-bred sires of all kinds.

The sales have consisted largely of beef bulls, dairy bulls, and boars, although a few rams also have been included. The sales are advertised intensively in the counties in which they are held. Small advertisements and posters are used, and for some time before the sale the local papers run articles on the value of pure-bred sires.

In that State it has been found that better results are obtained from the county sale than from sales covering a larger section or from State sales. Farmers are more apt to attend these sales where they can haul the purchases home or ship only a short distance. At a number of these sales the number of sires sold has varied from 20 to 60. One of the big advantages is that good blood produced in the county remains there and improves the general run of live stock instead of being scattered far and wide.

The department looks upon this plan as an important aid in the better sires—better stock movement. It is an excellent supplement to other method now in use.

New Treatment Prevents Mold in Tubs of Butter.

The growth of mold on butter in tubs is a cause of great annoyance to dealers and a common source of loss to creameries. Preventive treatments designed to do away with this trouble have been devised by various people, and these have been carefully studied by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The treatment that has been found most successful consists in soaking the tubs in cold water, steaming them for 30 seconds with live steam, paraffining the inner surface and then rubbing over the paraffin with salt. In addition the liners for the tubs are soaked for 30 minutes in a saturated solution of boiling brine. Under the supervision of the department several million pounds of butter have been packed in tubs and liners treated in this manner and no cases of mold have been reported.

A number of methods of treating tubs and liners have been tried out in comparison with the one just described, but no other has been equally successful. Some tubs and liners were merely soaked in cold water, and in these the mold made an abundant growth. When the tubs and liners were soaked in a saturated solution of cold brine the growth of the mold was somewhat reduced. Butter in tubs that were soaked in water and steamed for 30 seconds with live steam, and lined with liners that had been dipped in a saturated solution of boiling brine, developed very little mold, but results were still better when paraffin and salt were used as described above.

The treatment found most satisfactory is inexpensive and meets the needs of creameries of any type and in any part of the country.

for the 300-kilometer course. Sadi Lecoite, a leading French pilot, made a record of 200 miles an hour in a 65-mile lap, but as he started on the second lap a spark plug exploded with the noise of a cannon shot and the racer had to come down. He planned close to the ground, but the landing speed was so great that his 400-horse-power Nieuport turned completely over before stopping. Sadi Lecoite was lifted out unhurt and smiling.

ROADS SIGN WITH NEW SHOP UNIONS

Sixteen Carriers Agree Not To Litigate; Men Will Not Walkout.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Sixteen railroads have completed agreements with new organizations of their shopmen by which, in effect, the men waive the right to strike and the companies pledge themselves not to litigate, both parties agreeing to abide by the decisions of the Railroad Labor Board. It became known today. Notice of completion of the agreements has been filed with the Labor Board.

The sixteen roads which have signed agreements with new organizations of the employees are: Southern Pacific (Pacific System); Missouri, Kansas & Texas; Southern Pacific; Texas & Louisiana lines; Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis; Central of Georgia; New York, New Haven & Hartford; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; Colorado Southern; Great Northern; Lehigh Valley; International & Great Northern; Union Pacific System; Illinois Central; Florida East Coast; Trinity & Brazos Valley, and San Antonio, Uvalde & Gulf.

The mileage represented by these roads aggregates 55,916.

In addition to these roads, numerous others are negotiating agreements with associations of their own employees.

With the organization of company unions on the sixteen roads, the federated railway shop crafts, whose official name is the Railway Employees' Department of the American Federation of Labor, which directed the nationwide shopmen's strike which started July 1, are without recognition or representation so far as these roads are concerned.

FAYETTE BOY STARTS UNCLE IN PURE BRED HOG BUSINESS

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 14.—A good example of how junior agricultural club work gets adult farmers, as well as country boys, interested in pure bred live stock and better methods of doing things on the farm is to be found in the experiences of Clifton Ware, an 11-year-old Fayette county boy, who is one of the charter members of a pig club organized in the spring of 1921 by County Agent W. R. Gabbert and the extension division of the College of Agriculture. The pig bought for $20 from Tom Powers, Crittenden, by Clifton at the time he became a member of the club already has returned him $70 and in addition he has the original gilt, four boars and one sow. His uncle, Lester Darnaby, with whom he lives, who is now an enthusiastic and successful pure bred hog raiser says, "If it hadn't been for Clifton, I never would have thought of being a Poland China Breeder."

Surgeons agree that in cases of Cuts, Burns, Bruises and Wounds the first treatment is most important. When an efficient antiseptic is applied promptly, there is no danger of infection and the wound begins to heal at once. For use on man or beast, Borozone is the ideal antiseptic and healing agent. Buy it now and be ready for an emergency. Price 30c, 60c and $1.20. Sold by the Ohio County Drug Co.

SWINDLE-SHARKS FIND "EASY MARKS"

Washington, Oct. 14.—It has often been asserted that when the sharpers and swindlers want to do business on a large scale they flock to New York City and find more "easy marks", "good things", and "come ons", than they can find in any other section of the country. No doubt that is true for New York is the center of the most populous region of the United States. No statistics have been prepared on the subject, but the best information at hand shows that the crop of "suckers" average about the same all over the country. The venter of fake stocks seems to find victims everywhere in proportion to the population.

Commenting on this subject, Lew Wallace, Jr., Director of the Government Savings System, says that the gambling spirit among the people, the desire of the average American to "take a chance," is responsible for the success of the fakers, swindlers, and sharpers who are taking money away from the people. "Here is where the Government steps in and does a great work," said the Director. "It offers the people a high class investment in the Treasury Saving Certificate, a security that is within the reach of all, and at the same time it is carrying on an educational campaign to tell the people to avoid the swindlers. Speaking of New York as the best field of the sharpers I am reminded that only recently, right here in the National Capital, under the shadow of the Washington monument, as it were, the business men found it expedient to organize to protect the people against fake stock selling concerns. Bankers, merchants and professional men, as well as the more humble citizens are being caught by the shrewd operators. It was estimated that 100 concerns were selling worthless stock and other fake securities in the city of Washington. It is amazing that these swindlers can succeed in the face of all the warnings which have been given them against such persons."

An Agreeable Surprise.

"About three years ago when I was suffering from a severe cold on my lungs and coughed most of the time night and day, I tried a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was surprised at the promptness with which it gave me relief," writes Mrs. James Brown, Clark Mills, N. Y. Many another has been surprised and pleased with the prompt relief afforded by this remedy.

FARM AND HOME NEWS FROM OVER KENTUCKY

Curtis Montgomery, B. D. Parker, Guy Hulett and A. L. Gex, Carroll county farmers, are carrying on demonstrations with County Agent G. C. Rountt and the extension division of the College of Agriculture at Lexington to show farmers in that part of the state the value of limestone and acid phosphate for boosting wheat yields.

Nelson county farmers are paying more attention to better houses for their poultry. County Agent C. L. Hill says. Three new houses have been built recently and plans made for several others.

More than 200 Jefferson county farmers and their wives have been taught the method of separating the laying and loafing hens in their flocks this fall by means of 18 poultry culling demonstrations put on by County Agent F. E. Merriman.

The work of wiping out tuberculosis in McLean county cattle herds is going on with steady progress. County Agent Robert H. Ford says. Three hundred cows recently were tested in two weeks and seven reactors found.

More than 30 Union county poultry flocks already have been entered in the winter egg laying project which will be carried on over the state this coming winter by the extension division of the College of Agriculture. County Agent L. C. Brewer says. The project will be designed to show farmers how they can get more eggs from their hens by feeding them the right feeds and giving them good care.

SELECT SITE FOR NEGRO SCHOOL

Two hundred acres of land near Ridge, Md., was selected by the trustees of the Cardinal Bibbons institute for the site of an agricultural and industrial training school for the education of colored boys. Among the sponsors of the school are such prominent men as Admiral Benson, Archbishop Curley and Senator Walsh.

Has Never Felt Better in All His Life

Thousands of frail, nervous people and convalescents everywhere have testified to the remarkable power of Tanlac in bringing back their health, strength, and working efficiency. It seems to quickly invigorate the constitution and is a powerful foe of weakness. Harry W. Miller, 338 S. Main St., Akron, Ohio, says:

"My whole system was out of order. My appetite failed me, I was so nervous I couldn't sleep, I lost weight, and felt worn out all the time. Tanlac certainly made quick work of my troubles. I gained nearly ten pounds in weight, and was soon feeling fine in every way."

There is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac. It enables the stomach to turn the food into healthy blood, bone and muscle, purifies the system and builds you back to normal weight. Get a bottle today at any good druggist.

SUSPEND OHIO NAVIGATION.

Navigation on the Ohio river from Gallipolis, Ohio, to Cairo, Ill., a distance of 500 miles, was recently entirely suspended as the result of low water. It is said that the Ohio reached the lowest watermark it has reached for 15 years.

RED MEN TO BUILD HOME.

The great council of the Improved Order of Red Men has decided to erect a $1,000,000 home in Washington. The great incoherence, the supreme officer of the order, will visit the capital to confer with the local committee respecting a site for the building and other details of the project.

Constipation.

The beginning of almost every serious disorder is constipation. If you want to enjoy good health keep your bowels regular. This is best exercise, but sometimes a medicine is needed and when that is the case you will find Chamberlain's Tablets are excellent. They are mild and gentle in their action, easy and pleasant to take. Give them a trial. They only cost a quarter.

PLAN ATTACK ON HOOTCH.

Following the death of 22 people within 24 hours from drinking wood alcohol liquor the district attorney and police force of New York are planning simultaneous raids on the premises of all distillers and venders of poisonous liquors. Operations will be specially directed against the Red Hook district of Brooklyn where most of the poisonous liquor is said to be located.

EXTRACTS CIVIL WAR SHOT.

G. M. Evanston, Confederate veteran living at Senatobia, Miss., recently had extracted from his mouth a bullet which he received in the battle of Gettysburg. For 50 years surgeons were unable to locate the ball. It was found by his dentist protruding from the gum from which a tooth had been extracted a few days before.

TWELVE BRACKEN FARMERS FORM JERSEY CATTLE CLUB

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 14.—Organization of the Bracken County Jersey Cattle Club with 12 charter members marks the first step which farmers in that part of the state have taken to build up the dairy business of their community, according to E. M. Prewitt, dairy extension specialist of the College of Agriculture. George S. Welmer, Augusta, is president, Ray Fagin, Brooksville, vice president, and James Server, Brooksville, secretary-treasurer.

OHIO TO VOTE ON BEER.

As a result of the Association Opposed to prohibit the Ohio supreme court has decided that it will be necessary to submit the question of the sale of wine and beer to a referendum in the November elections. The secretary of state held that it would be futile to revive the issue inasmuch as it is already settled.

STILLS CAUSE FOREST FIRES.

It is reported that moonshine stills are responsible for at least 25 per cent of the fires which occur in the forests of the Pacific Northwest. The stills are usually located in the midst of thick timber where fire will readily start from the smallest spark and get beyond control before the smoke is discovered by the fire-fighting forces.

OBSERVE ROOSEVELT'S BIRTHDAY

A proclamation was issued by Gov. Miller, of New York, urging the people of the state to observe in public manner October 27, the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt. In the proclamation the former president was referred to as one who "will remain for Americans and for people beyond the boundaries of our country an upright and inspiring figure."

PRIZE BABY DIES.

Only a few hours after the 18-months-old son of Dean Wardenbaugh, Pen Mar, Md., was awarded a prize in the prettiest baby contest at Pen Mar he was stricken with infantile paralysis. The child later died in the hospital at Hagerstown.

"Built Me Up"

"I USED Cardui for years and it did me more good than any medicine I ever used," writes Mrs. M. C. Ragsdale, of Fort Towson, Okla. "I used to suffer with womanly trouble that weakened me until I was a mere shadow, nervous, and could not sleep. I did not feel like I could live."

"It seemed that nothing helped me till I heard of Cardui and began to use it. It strengthened me and, as 'twas recommended to do, it regulated and built me up till I was like another woman."

If you are weak, run-down and feel that you need a tonic, take Cardui, the woman's tonic, the tonic about which you have always heard, the tonic that helps weak women regain their strength.

Cardui acts on the womanly system and helps relieve pain and discomfort due to female ailments.

Try Cardui, today, for your trouble.

WASHINGTON COMMENT

A resolution calling upon president Harding to order discontinuance of war games as not being "in harmony with the spirit which promotes good will," was adopted by the Pennsylvania branch of the Women's International League for Peace.

Dear ladies, why?

Can your servant use a vacuum cleaner if she be not trained in its handling? Can you cook a good meal without practice to learn how? Can you make a home without knowledge?

How can an army be worth anything to a country if it be not trained?

It, indeed, your convictions are that this country needs no soldiers, that it should scrap every gun, put every soldier to making roads or rearing the fields, there are none who will quarrel with your right to offer such resolutions in your meetings, though there will be many who will disagree with your conclusions.

But to admit that we need an army, and yet resolve that we should not train it; to agree that armed bodies of men are required for protection, for police duty, for the showing of that mantle of law and peace about our citizenship, which is the guarantee of the Government to us all in the enjoyment of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, and then to say that these who are our guardians can not be trained without violation of the "spirit which promotes good will," is not to impress those who listen to you with your good sense or your vision.

President George Washington, who was "first in peace," when peace was possible, said:

"There is nothing so likely to produce peace as to be well prepared to meet the enemy." I think it would be right for us to hold forth at least every appearance of preparation and vigor, and really to do what our abilities and the circumstances of our finance may well justify.

Let us have peace, indeed. But let us not have the foolish peace of ignorance and folly, but the mighty peace of a strong people, protected with trained men against the enemies of society, of national security, of God.

From the Lowell and Harvard observatories come marvelous stories of recent stellar discoveries; of a star cluster more distant than any hitherto known; of the extension of the known confines of the galactic system to the inconceivable figure of 250,000 parsecs or light years (a light year is the distance light can travel in a year, and light travels 186,000 miles per second.)

If there was ever an astronomer who was not a reverent and wholly believing worshipper of God, he has concealed the fact successfully. Those who gaze thru telescopes at the infinities of distance, the marvels of mechanism, and the miracles of balanced force which are everywhere in the sky, have first-hand evidence of the mightiness of Him who made and rules the universe.

Every discovery of nature we make, every pushing back of the known boundaries, every new marvel we see, but make the wisdom and the glory of the Almighty more manifest.

Side by side, in the daily paper, which carried the first announcement of the finding of more distant boundary for the Universe as we know it—a fact to make any thinking man get upon his knees—was an interview with a clergyman who shall here be nameless, gravely setting forth his carefully thought-out conclusions that while short skirts were all right, rouge on a woman's face was wrong!

Oh, preacher, for what did your God give you eyes and ears and a brain? For what are you His minister? Men cry to you for the bread of understanding, the food of teaching of the wonders of God; and you give them judgments as to the relative worth of two grains of sand on the shores of the human sea!

PRACTICAL POINTERS

Oilcloth or linoleum painted over with shellac gives a brilliant polish without causing a slippery surface; it will wear longer, and the frequency of necessary cleaning is materially lessened.

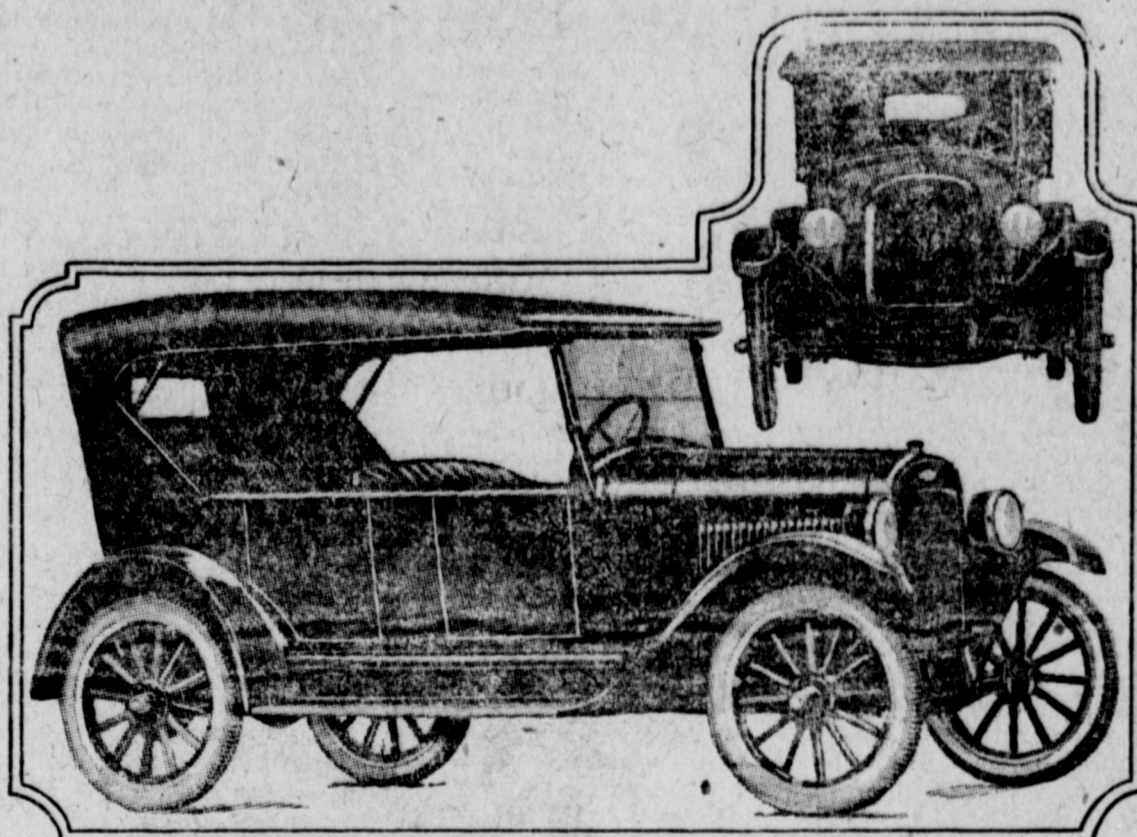

Painted walls can be cleaned by letting a kettle of water boil in a tightly closed room until it creates a moisture all over the walls. Then dip a soft cloth in a pail of hot suds containing a tablespoonful of ammonia and go over the walls with it.

To avoid burning in the process of baking a cake line the pan with oiled paper, pour in the batter and then set it in the oven inside another pan containing a layer of sand.

"Well, Bloom," a physician asked a young colleague who was just starting in, "how's your practice?"

"In the mornings practically no-one comes," was the reply, "and in the afternoons the rush falls off a bit."—Stockholm Kasper.
